WiFi™ ... INTERNET, DAB, FM, MP3, DVD, iPod AND PLAYBACK FROM PC IN ONE RADIO UNIT!

BlueTinum® is proud to present worlds first fully combined "Internet Home Entertainment System". This unit combines the features of Internet Radio, DAB Radio, FM Radio, MP3, DVD, iPod and direct PC streaming all in the same unit, and furthermore in a beautiful wooden cabinet with Piano coated and shiny finish.

All design and development has taken place in Denmark, but mass production is being done in Asia.

For the past year there has been a few solely internet based table radios on the market, but this is the first time DAB and FM also has been integrated together with the Internet Radio. Furthermore we have integrated DVD/DivX playback and added SD/MMC Cardreader and USB connection for external units. By integrating all the known and popular features you now have the luxury to choose from more than 10.000 Internet radiostations and also from the many different DAB channels available. And if this is not enough you can still choose to use the FM band and listen to the "old" analogue stations this have to offer. Want to watch a DVD movie? Just choose DVD on remote. Plug-in your iPod in the iPod cradle and listen to your favorite music. All this can easily be controlled with the remote control. With the external speakers you get great quality audio but you can also choose to connect the radio to an external amplifier with the line-out connection.

BlueTinum® presented this radio at the IFA Electronics Fair in Berlin October 2007 and this will also be shown at AsiaWorld-Expo in Hong Kong from October 12-15 / 2007. Also shown will be different types of entry-level models like BT-H1506 that "only" has integrated all the Audio devices like Internet Radio and DAB/FM.

BlueTinum® wants; with this new series of innovative Radios, to be one of the leading within the combination of different technologies for audio/video products. BlueTinum® is now able to provide end-users worldwide with one player that contains all a modern home needs for enjoying digital audio and video!

The retail price for the standard edition of the Internet/DAB/FM/PC radio is expected to be from EUR 69,00 and upwards depending on the specifications in the retail stores, and is expected to hit the market around Christmas 2007.
